supperclub ALFRESCO

MOOs enjoyed the summer sun sipping an 'alfresco' cocktail on the sun terrace before migrating to the upper terrace to sample the delights cooked up in the outdoor kitchen - all this to the backdrop of the chilled vibes from acoustic duo sound latino to cope with the traditional english summer evening, the chill chaser heater was on, the firepit and chiminea were lit, and blankets provided to keep everyone cosy as they toasted marshmallows on the firepit sipping a hot cocktail

- ✘ ALFRESCO setting on the upper terrace with full view of all the outdoor kitchen action
- ✘ live music from SOUND LATINO
- ✘ DIY s'mores toasted on the firepit

WOO KITCHEN

when the MOOCOW boys were looking at landscaping their upper terrace last year they wanted to install an outdoor kitchen - but being the MOOCOW boys they wanted something a little different that's when they discovered the WOO - a unique dutch designed modular concrete outdoor kitchen by Piet-jan van den Kommer complete with a big green egg oven and a plumbed in sink, plenty of prep work surfaces with storage shelves and boxes, the WOO should be here long after the MOOCOW boys have gone - made from 'indestructible' concrete it should still be standing 50 years on the big green egg is a charcoal fuelled oven inspired by the japanese kamado ovens it has seven different cooking methods and three types of heat with precision temperature control making it a very versatile alternative to a BBQ to complement their big green egg the boys also sourced a traditional italian wood fired pizza oven - the alfa caio planking is cooking food directly on a piece of hardwood - when cooking this way, the surface of the food touching the wood picks up some of the plank's natural flavours there's some debate on the origins of planking - it's been documented that native americans in the pacific northwest pinned their salmon to large wood boards, then slow cooked them - planking the MOOs enjoyed their salmon cooked on american cedar planks which had been soaked overnight in apple cider sound latino is headed up by jose romero who is a chilean musician who has been living on the island for nearly 18 years jose has had the experience of playing all over the world, touring new zealand, australia, the middle east and europe with all kind of musicians, styles and instruments, integrating this learning into his playing sound latino is a project based on the use of technology and acoustic instruments (guitars, flutes, congas) to reproduce latin sounds and popular songs, influenced by afro-caribbean, west african, flamenco rhythms.

ALFA PIZZA OVEN

using loops and drum-machines programmed by himself jose is supported by mike holdcroft on the tenor sax, an experienced young talent bred on the island
